Rosslyn – Ballston Corridor Tour

Arlington Public Art Collection Tours

Public art is all around us in Arlington! Whether you are visiting for the first time or a lifelong Arlingtonian, we hope you enjoy these public art tours.

Since 1979, when art was first negotiated as part of a private development project, Arlington has been an innovator in the field of public art. That first artwork – Nancy Holt’s internationally acclaimed Dark Star Park – was dedicated in 1984. More than thirty years later, Arlington is home to a diverse and rich collection of over sixty permanent public artworks.

For more information about any of the artworks or artists, see www.publicart.arlingtonva.us.
